

32nd Annual CLE Ski

Snowmass, CO – January 22- January 27, 2016

Sunday, January 22

4:30 – 6:00pm

Networking Reception

Monday, January 23

7:00 – 7:30am

Registration

7:30 – 9:00am

Ethics: Be a Badass not an Ass

This dual presentation will deal with how we should conduct ourselves with the court and opposing counsel to comply with both ethical rules of conduct and local rules of court. The theme will be on professionalism and ethics both inside and outside the court room.

Rusty Reviere, Rainey, Kizer, Reviere & Bell, PLC

4:30 – 6:00pm

Enforcing and Defending Restrictive Covenants and Trade Secret Protections

Billy and Jeff will cover enforcing restrictive covenants and protecting trade secrets (when you represent the former employer) and defending against enforcement of restrictive covenants and challenging protections for purported trade secrets (when you represent the departed employee).

William B. Ryan, Donati Law, PLLC

Jeff Weintraub, Fisher & Phillips LLP

Tuesday, January 24

7:30 – 9:00am

Recent Developments in Torts and Civil Procedure

Sarah Sheppard

4:30 – 6:00pm

Challenging Administrative Agency Rules, Orders and Licenses

Sheri will cover various ways to challenge administrative agency decisions including recent administrative law developments in Tennessee.

Sheri Jacobs, Bone McAllester Norton PLLC

Wednesday, January 25

7:30 – 9:00am

Social Security Basics

The Social Security Act and its various provisions encompass a wide variety of benefits: disability, retirement, Medicare and many more. These benefits can also affect and be affected by many other areas of law: domestic relations, long term disability, worker's compensation, personal injury, and medical coverage to name a few. Even a small amount of knowledge of the Social Security Act can be of immense value to the practitioner or new attorney with the firm, especially if the senior partner asks "Do we have anyone who knows anything about Social Security?" Do not miss this opportunity to gain a little knowledge in a specific area touching so many other areas of law.

Chris Cornaghi, Attorney-at-Law

4:30 – 6:00pm

TBD

Rusty Jones

Thursday, January 26

7:30 – 9:00am

Estate Planning After the Fact

How to repair a bad estate plan or improve a good estate plan even after the trust is irrevocable and the creator of the trust is deceased.

George Nassar, Glankler Brown PLLC

4:30 – 6:00pm

Fun With Ethics -- No, Really!

Max Shelton

Sarah Sheppeard

Friday, January 27

7:30 – 9:00am

Full Court Press: How Lawyers Can Effectuate Change

In 1976, Victoria Cape, a junior at Oak Ridge High School, filed a lawsuit against the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association, under Title IX of the Educational Amendments Act of 1972, and the Fourteenth Amendment. The issue was the TSSAA rules governing girls high school basketball at the time, limiting the girls game to half court, with the three forwards and three guards on each team, and the forwards and guards being confined to opposite ends of the court. At trial, Victoria Cape's lawyers called an expert witness, Pat Head, then a 26 year old head basketball coach of the University of Tennessee Lady Vols. She would go on to be the legendary Pat Summitt. The case would go to the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit and ultimately to the Office of Civil Rights of the United States Department of Health Education and Welfare. The result would literally change the game and open the doors for young women to be student-athletes not only in Tennessee but across the country.

Bill Haltom, Attorney-at-Law

4:30 – 6:00pm

Supreme Court Review

Perry Craft