

Why Health Law?

A Guide for New Practitioners

August 31, 2017

London & Amburn - Knoxville, Tenn.

Program Producer: Brian Roark, Bass, Berry & Sims PLC and Ian Hennessey, London & Amburn PC

Total Credits: 2 General

This program is designed for new lawyers – offering an introduction to health law as a practice area and career. Learn about the basics, inter-workings and find out if this is the right fit for you.

3:00 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Registration/Welcome

3:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

The ABC's of Healthcare

This presentation will introduce and summarize key topic areas within the challenging, dynamic, and diverse practice of healthcare law and policy.

Zack Buck, University of Tennessee College of Law

4:30 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Why Be A Health Law Attorney: From the ABC's to the In's and Out's

In this session, we will explore how the legal issues confronted by the healthcare sector translate into everyday practice for attorneys. We will discuss various health law related practice areas, including malpractice defense, business litigation, regulatory matters and business transactions, among others.

Ian Hennessey, London & Amburn PC

Jennifer Pearson Taylor, London & Amburn PC

5:30 p.m.

Health Law Section Social Hour

Sponsored by London & Amburn PC