

Cyber Space: The Final Frontier... Ethics and Malpractice Risks of Protecting Electronic Information

October 25, 2018

University of Memphis– Memphis Tenn.

Producer: Christian A. Stiegemeier, The Bar Plan Foundation

Total Credits: 3 Dual

As quickly as client information and case management technology evolves, so too does the legal profession's duty to safeguard it. Because if you're online, you're being watched. The prudent management of law firm data brings together not just a lawyer's ethical duties and malpractice risk management, but her own personal financial exposure as well. This seminar will help attendees learn to identify those risks and provide a roadmap for addressing them.
