

Tennessee Supreme Court Academy

September 6, 2017

University of Tennessee College of Law – Knoxville, Tenn.

Total Credits: 3 General Hours
1 Dual Hour

The Tennessee Supreme Court is unfamiliar territory for most lawyers. Opportunities to practice in this court are few and success requires skills of oral and written advocacy. Lessons learned during this seminar will be generally applicable to practice in appellate and trial courts. Attendees will learn from a distinguished faculty and through observation of oral arguments.

On September 6th attendees will register at the University of Tennessee College of Law for observation of oral arguments before the Tennessee Supreme Court. After the oral argument observation, follow-up session will touch on appellate practice advocacy and ethical considerations.
