

Preventing Legal Malpractice 2015:
Be Afraid, Be Very Afraid – Today’s Professional Ethics and Legal
Malpractice Risks for Tennessee Lawyers
Knoxville, TN
November 11, 2015

Program Description - With the unprecedented rise in the severity of malpractice claims, it is no longer reasonable for Tennessee lawyers to approach malpractice prevention as merely a desirable way of practicing but to understand that it is a necessary ingredient for today’s successful lawyer. As well as to realize that, in the constantly changing legal world of professionalism and malpractice avoidance, the only sure way to protect oneself is through recognition of this fact of life and adapt to these new realities.

Using the knowledge and experience gained from going inside the firm’s who thought they were doing it right, as well as tapping into the insights and perceptions of the lawyers who defend lawyers, this seminar is designed to bring new awareness to the critical impact this issue has on every aspect of a lawyers practice.

Agenda

- |                  |  |
|------------------|--|
| 8:30 – 9:00am    | Registration  |
| 9:00 – 10:00am   | The QUIZ - ALL NEW. Ten Questions and Ten Answers Addressing Recent Trends in Legal Ethics and Malpractice.                               |
| 10:00 – 10:10am  | Break   |
| 10:10 – 11:10 am | The Changing Risk of Legal Malpractice in TennesseeYou Only Get One Opportunity to Make a First Impression – And ALast One, Too |
| 11:10 – 11:15am  | Break   |
| 11:15 – 12:15pm  | Five Practice Management Myths that Lead to MalpracticeThe Impaired Lawyer   |